Dear Yuji Hirota,

Many thanks for the information.

As you are aware, the UNFCCC secretariat is devoted to supporting the intergovernmental negotiating process on climate change; thus, your proposal is beyond the scope of our mandate. We regret we are not in a position to respond.

New technologies together with "thinking outside of the box" will be important components of any sustainable solution. Since the UNFCCC is not directly involved in implementation, it is recommended that you direct your efforts at promoting this project with potential partners in your country.

We wish you all the best with your endeavors to create practical innovative solutions to the problem of global warming.

Best regards,
